MANY NEW BUILDINGS.

That West Scranton is again becomng a popular residential part of the rity is being evidenced more and more each day by the number of new buildings which are being erected. In all parts of this section the sound of the hammer and saw is heard, denoting the presence of the builder. Many are adding to a house already built or beautifying it in some manner. This fact is more particularly so where there is little room left for the erection of any more residences,

And then if one was to visit the two recent hand additions to the building erritory; namely, the Fairview and Tripp Land company, the fact that either more individuals are building or the population is increasing would appear. The fact remains that there is a great demand, among those who rent, or more modern houses with their enveniences and as the demand so nust be the supply.

The residences, built and building, n the Fairview tract are of the very st so far as architecture and appliances for the comfort of those who are to live therein is concerned. The most available and choice lots are pretty vell taken. At present the streets are ing graded and guttered. Sidewalks being made and flagstones laid. In many instances made and other shade trees have been planted, thus beautifying the place,

Up at the Tripp tract and on North Main avenue many dwellings, all in odern style, are being erected, streets graded, guttered and flagstone side-walks laid. A notlevable feature of this building energy is the number of West Scranton young men who are equiring property and building homes of their own. This is an evidence of in intention to stay and also of thrift, All in all, there is every reason why West Scranton should be popular as idential portion of the city. Rents re fair, good dwellings can be obtained and the general health of the inmunity is above the average. No woll blossed with school and church facilities. The merchants ep in touch with the best the city produce. Water service is good. and sewer and pavement Improvements re being added to yearly.

The modes of approach, not as ample s they should be, will be almost percted when the long-agitated viaduct | built. Finally, there is every reason to believe that in the course of another year several industries will be located on the many advantageous building sites on this side and thus a very mo-mentous question will be settled. The tagnation of labor, resulting from the losing down of the mines, will be re-
